

So you think you've got your Web, Email and Data Security covered? WRONG!

Wrong - unless you are already using the World's ONLY fully integrated data security platform solution. We can help you to have far better proactive rather than reactive cyber security defences!

Can you say YES to the following critically important questions:

- Does your current Cyber Security technology cover Web, Email, Data Protection and Endpoint control on ONE unified platform?
- Do you know what data left your Company IT Network through email today and to whom?
- Does your current security solution offer Office 365, DropBox or other cloud capability? Approximately 67 million users are now using cloud based systems.
- Are you able to protect users (including remote users) from phishing threats even when NOT on the Corporate network? Up to 90% of all email messages today contain hyperlinks. Many are malicious.
- Do you have REALTIME visibility into who has what data? Do you know where that data is located?
- Do you know what your remote users are doing with your data when they are off the Corporate network?
- Would +1700 pre-established policies save you time with your statutory data compliance requirements? (compliant with the NEW UK Data Protection Act).
- Did you know that ACCIDENTAL data loss is TWICE that of intentional. We are all human, we all make mistakes. Don't allow it to be fatal to the business.

- Does your current technology allow proper Sandboxing? Web Filtering only secures against KNOWN malware.
 - If customer PCI information was incorrectly mailed to someone else, would your current technology be CONTEXTUALLY AWARE and proactively stop that from happening?
 - Can your cyber security technology detect threats in J-PEGS and PDF formats?
-

If you have answered NO several times to the questions above, then you should be talking to us about a no obligation demo of the World's leading and integrated data security platform solution.

To give you peace of mind, JBN is offering THE market leading data security platform solution at WELL BELOW LIST PRICE*.